If you have epicurean dreams of cooking a Thanksgiving feast that would make even Ina Garten jealous, by all means, stop reading here. This is a story for the Thanksgiving procrastinators at heart, who'd rather do just about anything other than brine a turkey overnight.

For those folks, DC restaurants are offering Thanksgiving feasts in a la carte, pre-set, and even to-go options this year. No matter what your ideal Thanksgiving looks like, a DC restaurant has you covered so you don't even have to think about turning on the oven. So whether you want that picture-perfect Thanksgiving spread or would rather toss tradition aside this year, check out our list of all the best restaurants providing Thanksgiving dinner in DC.

Moon Rabbit

📍 The Wharf

Kevin Tien's buzzy, modern Vietnamese restaurant is offering a soul-satisfying menu this Thanksgiving. Moon Rabbit will offer its standard menu, but groups of families or friends can also indulge in a large format duck dinner which includes dry-aged duck breast with white pepper duck confit fried rice, Bing Bread with butter, a smashed cucumber salad, and Chinese long beans with XO beurre monte. For dessert, enjoy a delicious Japanese sweet potato pie with chantilly cream.
